Summary (Scroll down for more)

Over the past 5 years (2020-2025), incidents targeting education have risen dramatically. All key metrics analyzed — including the number of incidents, attacks on educational facilities, assaults on students in school, and attacks on schools and universities — have each surge over 600% signaling a growing threat to safe learning environments.

A closer look at the reported outcomes for arrested victims reveals that more than 50% lack documented resolutions. Among those recorded, most common outcome was that victims were freed, raising concerns about the safety, protection, and documentation of post-arrest documentation of those affected.

Interestingly, while overall attacks peaked in 2024, the number of students and educators harmed peaked earlier in 2021, suggesting that the human impact doesn't always coincide with the frequency of the
